

Punto News always communicating - better communicating

Punto News actually is intended to be a real diary of the lifestyle you can find at and around Tagliabue Sistemi, providing information about the company and its products, but also on the Market in which we operate. PUNTO NEWS is also intended to be an occasion to make our guests meet anything that enters to be part of our productive environment: personal meetings, professionalism, business partnerships we collaborate with and for whom we perform our work. PUNTO NEWS is actually something more than a simple information tool: we aim to share with our customers experiences, achievements and results to be realized step by step as well as innovations that turn up so quickly in our sector enabling us and our customers to better communicate within and without the company. PUNTO NEWS is actually intended to become in the course of time an effective information and service tool to grow together with you.
